A Promise of Care: Securing My Parents' Future with the Stanbic IBTC Sunset Benefit Plan

When I first heard about the Stanbic IBTC Sunset Benefit Plan, my thoughts were focused on my parents rather than myself. As they got older, I found myself becoming increasingly concerned about their well-being, especially with the unpredictable costs associated with aging. My mother, who had always been the rock of our family, had begun to show signs of frailty. My father, though still strong in spirit, was no longer the man he used to be.

During a regular hangout, my sister suggested securing a life insurance policy for our parents. "Have you heard about the Stanbic IBTC Sunset Benefit Plan?" she asked. "It offers financial protection and covers funeral expenses in case of an unfortunate event. It's affordable and offers real peace of mind."

The Sunset Benefit Plan provides coverage for me and my parents. It guarantees us financial protection in case of death and provides a minimum coverage of ₦500,000 which can be increased to ₦5,000,000 for each of us. That was more than enough to cover funeral expenses and any unexpected costs.

Beyond that, I learned that the policy also included benefits like catering and grocery support, which would help us during a time of grief. After deep considerations, I enrolled my parents on the plan, feeling a deep sense of relief.

As I filled out the forms, I imagined how comforting it would be for my parents to know that they wouldn't leave us with a financial burden in their absence. More than just insurance, this plan was an investment in our collective peace of mind.

The Stanbic IBTC Sunset Benefit Plan wasn't just about securing my parents financially; it was about prioritising their well-being, protecting them from unforeseen financial strains, and ensuring they would always have the care and dignity they deserve, today and in the future.
